

THE OAK-TREE GROUP OF SCHOOLS - NEWS RELEASE - MONDAY 23 SEPTEMBER 2013

Three local schools join together for Celebration of Art at Lopping Hall, Loughton

Pupils' art works from the Oak-Tree Group of Schools were featured at special exhibition at Lopping Hall, Loughton on Saturday 21 September. Ranging from some of the 100% A*/A-graded GCSE Art pieces from Normanhurst Senior pupils to individual and collaborative pieces from pupils at Coopersale Hall School and Oaklands School, the Art Exhibition was enthusiastically received by parents, friends of the schools and the local community.

An extended exhibition started on Saturday 14 September at the Lopping Hall Gallery and continues until Saturday 28 September with selected pieces that provided a strong accompaniment to Saturday's main Art Exhibition.

The Heads of Art at the three schools, Jan Wheeler of Coopersale Hall, Mei Slater at Oaklands and show curator Mr Payam Beint of Normanhurst were all very pleased with how the schools combined to put on such an extensive range of vivid visual display. With many positive comments in the visitors' books, the display also saw some interested local collectors who hoped to purchase some of the works.
